Dodgers Lead League in Batting and Tie Them in Fielding, Yet Are in Second Division ... Jackson and Cobb Slump

The importance of baserunning is reflected strongly at present in the National League averages. Brooklyn leads the league in batting and is tied with the Giants in fielding as well as possessing the league batting leader, Daubert, and one of the ten leading sluggers, Wheat, whereas the Giants have not a representative in the latter list. Yet the Giants are heading the league and Brooklyn is in the second division. The answer? The Giants have made better use of their opportunities. Burns, Murray, Doyle and Merkle all rank among the ten best base stealers, while Cutshaw is the only Dodger with a high record on the paths, Joe Jackson and Ty Cobb now have Joe Jackson All Jackson Jackson Alexander, Phila Humphrles, Chi Ricksy Phila Bookson, Phila B
